What Are we doing

C-Curity Ltd has implemented the following measures in response to climate change:

- We try to hire locals wherever we can, which helps the neighbourhood and lowers our workers' carbon footprints when they commute.
- To cut down on carbon emissions, we encourage most of our head office staff who reside in different parts of the UK to work remotely.
- Google Suite is the communication tool of choice for everyone in the organization, and most meetings are conducted via Google Video.
- We constantly work to transition to a paperless workplace, making significant IT investments to lower trash production and stop landfill pollution.
- Minimizing waste, shutting off unnecessary power and heating, cutting down on transportation expenses, and making effective use of machines and equipment.
